Foreword

Two years at Potomac State are, in reality, the first two steps toward the completion of a degree. At matriculation in this junior college, the individual must have climbed successfully a flight of twelve steps. The freshmen have now added a rung; the sophomores, two.

The staff hopes that this pictorial record of classroom activity, extra-curricular endeavors, and other experiences will serve as a reminder of happy, profitable hours together. May the stairway lead to the land of heart's desire.

Editor-in-Chief, William Coffman
Business Manager, Owen Arrington
Advisor, Mr. David G. Nuzum

Potomac State has contributed generously of her faculty and student body to the armed services. The yearbook staff presents this group of former students as a token of esteem. Those who answer the call of service and those who remain on the campus are united in the purpose of restoring freedom, that the light may once again be rekindled all over the world.

We Honor

In dedicating the 1943 CATAMOUNT to the members of the faculty of Potomac State, the student body recognizes two primary factors upon which the opportunity for college training depends.

Captain K. S. McKee was chosen as a representative of the instructors and members of the many student bodies, who joined the forces of the United States to keep inviolate the American way of life.

Dr. W. D. Anthony was selected as a representative of the instructors and student body members who have remained in civilian life to contribute unstintingly of their time and efforts toward our common goal of a military victory and a just peace.

Our Thanks

The staff wishes to extend its sincere thanks to Mr. David G. Nuzum in appreciation for his time, effort, and guidance spent in producing this fifth volume of THE CATAMOUNT. We are also indebted for the use of the Pasquino Staff room by our photographer and to Dr. W. D. Anthony for printing privileges. The staff appreciates the encouragement given by Dr. Church, and the faculty.

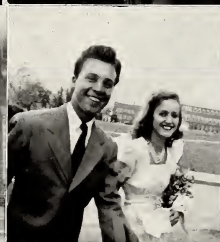

We acknowledge with appreciation the frequent trips and consultation given by Mr. John F. Rose of the Herald Printing House, and the quality of photographs and friendly cooperation offered by Mr. Arthur Campbell.

To all of our advertisers and boosters we extend our unreserved appreciation.

We ask pardon for any omissions and errors.

The staff wishes to express its thanks to all those students who have helped in producing this yearbook: Jean Bowers, Christine Smith, Joan Rowe, Juanita Lewis, Mary Jane Whitesell, Sue Evans, Marjorie Crane, Eleanor LeMasters, Mary Nan Harshbarger, Miriam Stuart, Owen Arrington, William Green, Eugene Myers, George Sprecker, and Geneveve Mott.

President's Message

First, to the sponsor and the staff of the Catamount, congratulations. It was difficult to make a decision on publishing in this trying year. We are glad the decision was positive and the tradition of the Catamount remains unbroken. We appreciate your loyal service.

But it is to the students we are supposed to be speaking. It is you who have made possible this good year despite the handicaps forced upon us by war. We had to modify our program and our procedure. We could not "do business as usual." We required you to maintain higher standards, to be conscious of your obligations as American citizens in a time of crisis. You have justified our faith in you by responding with renewed efforts. You have attained new goals and you have not complained. You have proved that you are thoroughly awake to the responsibilities as well as the rights of citizens.

We are proud of a student body that in time of great stress has demonstrated its loyalty and devotion to Potomac State School and to America.

Davis Hall

Davis Hall, a commodious and comfortable brick building sufficient to accommodate all non-resident men students, is located on the north-western side of the campus. This dormitory, under the supervision of Coach Dana Lough, ably assisted by Mrs. Ethelynd B. Hutton, preceptress, serves the boys as a home during their stay at Potomac State.

By living together, these men soon promote two outstanding attributes, friendship and fellowship. Besides providing facilities for studying, the hall supplies means of recreation. One of the favorite pastimes is participation in "bull sessions" or group discussions of varied subjects. Another form of activity, under the supervision of Coach Lough, is intramural sports. The teams are composed entirely of men residing on the campus.

Since the dining room is located in Davis Hall, the annual Christmas Party is held here. This is the climax of the first semester's social activities.

Early each year the boys meet to organize and select officers. In 1942-43 the group honored Ernest L. Grove, Jr., as president. Carroll Rowe, Jim Rice, Jack O'Neill, and Tom Shaffer served as proctors.

Reynolds Hall

Reynolds Hall was built in 1925 and named in honor of Senator E. B. Reynolds. During each school term it serves as the residence for approximately fifty women. They are held together by a bond of friendship, each sharing both the sorrows and joys of the others. From every part of this state, and also neighboring states, the girls come; from the relationship that they achieve here, they become closer and nearer to one another.

The dormitory not only has a system of comradeship but also of organization. Eleanor Colabrese was elected as president by popular vote. Sue Evans served as secretary and treasurer. The proctors elected were: June Heare, Alice Jean Fulk, Carolyn Gunn, Dorothy Moore, and Lela Stump.

The girls of the "dorm" held "pajama parties" approximately twice each month. They also held their annual Christmas party on December 16. At this event an imitation Santa Claus had complete charge; presents were exchanged; a feeling of happiness and good-will predominated; hilarity reigned.

Mrs. Ellen Neill is the preceptess of Reynolds Hall. She is assisted by Mrs. Carter I. Long.

Homecoming Ball

At the ninth annual Homecoming Ball, October 17, Mary Kathleen Allman of Clarksburg was honored as Miss Catamount IV. Mary Kathleen is president of Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority, vice-president of Sigma Phi Omega, honor fraternity, and a member of W. A. A., Players, and Country Life Clubs. She is one of the most attractive and popular co-eds on the campus and attained this honor through a vote of the students. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, after which she led a grand march composed of the hundred couples. The orchestras of Jimmy Andrews and the Potomac State Collegians supplied the music for the dancers in a patriotic atmosphere.

Harvest Swing

The annual Harvest Swing, sponsored by the Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority and the Theta Sigma Chi fraternity, was held on November 21 in honor of Mary Lou Brown of Kingwood. Mary Lou was selected because of her scholastic ability, popularity, and participation in campus activities. Amid a decoration scheme representing the harvest season, Paxton Powers, president of the fraternity, presented Mary Lou with a beautiful corsage of roses on behalf of the two societies. The Potomac State Collegians, under the direction of LeMoyne Blake, furnished the music.

Jingle Bell Hop

December 12 found the students of Potomac State celebrating the spirit of Christmas at the Jingle Bell Hop sponsored by Phi Sigma Nu and Sigma Epsilon Chi. Santa Claus presented each girl with a jingle bell bracelet, and corsages, matching the holiday spirit with that of defense, were sold. Amid a scene of pine trees and dimmed lights Eleanor Colabrese and Richard Moore were proclaimed Queen and King of Winter. Eleanor was presented with a beautiful bouquet because of her outstanding scholastic achievement, her beauty, personality, and leadership in the sorority. Music was furnished by Jimmy Andrews and his orchestra.

Christine Smith
"Potomac State Bond Queen"

Potomac State Bond Queen

Attractive blonde-haired Christine Smith was announced winner of the title "Potomac State Bond Queen," in the drive sponsored by the Pasquino through Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society. The votes for Christine represented $2537.50 of the total of $4052.70 worth of War Bonds and Stamps sold.

Miss Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ancel Smith of West Union, is a Sophomore Pre-Education major, who expects to continue her training at West Virginia University. She is a member of Sigma Epsilon Chi Sorority, Society Editor of the Pasquino, Associate Assistant Editor of the Catamount, member of the Folio Book Club, Women's Athletic Association, Country Life Club, and was a princess in the 1942 May Court.

Bonds and Stamps for Victory

On the campus of Potomac State School is an organization whose normal interests during the past two years have been overshadowed by a patriotic desire to make a definite contribution toward winning the war. This organization is Sigma Phi Omega, the honor fraternity, which has operated the booth in the hall of the Administration Building for the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Regularly twice a week the booth has been open, manned by students who have gladly and unselfishly donated their time to further this project, which brought to them and their organization no return, financial or otherwise, save the consciousness of being of service to their country.

During the past year, all members of Sigma Phi Omega remaining on the campus have helped with this activity, but the following should be cited for special service: Mary K. Allman and Jean Bowers, managers responsible for operation of booth; Lucile Anthony, messenger responsible for stamp supply; Joseph Heare, messenger responsible for sale of bonds; Ernest Grove, Eleanor Colabrese, Rebecca Mauzy, and Christine Shockey, service in the booth.

Christmas Dinner

The annual Christmas dinner of Potomac State School was held December 17, 1942, in the dining room of Davis Hall. Each table was gaily adorned with ornaments of the yuletide season; music played softly in the background; the holiday spirit reigned over all of the students and faculty members.

After dinner, the men and women sang Christmas carols. Ernest Grove served as toastmaster for the evening's entertainment. The program consisted of, in addition to the group singing, a saxophone duet by Frank Wright and Lee Sheaffer; music by LeMoyne Blake, Bob Hicks, Donald Flick, and David Robinson; music by Eleanor Colabrese, June Frazee, Miriam Stuart, and Jean Ellis; a reading by Leafy Rexrode; and a piano solo by Jean Marie Davis. President E. E. Church gave a short timely talk.

Instead of exchanging gifts, as the annual custom had formerly been, the students and faculty put the money in one fund and bought a twenty-five dollar war bond, which was awarded by lot to Joan Thayer.

Eta Upsilon Gamma, the only national junior college sorority on the campus, was established by six girls at Christian College, Columbia, Missouri. The sorority's aims are to promote scholarship, to stimulate school spirit, and to enrich and broaden friendship.

Twenty-two girls became Gamma pledges after attending a "Rush Party" held October 13. December 15 Santa Claus visited all the girls at the request of the pledges.

In collaboration with Theta Sigma Chi, the Gammas sponsored the Harvest Swing at which time Mary Lou Brown was chosen "Harvest Queen." Miss Mary Kathleen Allman was honored as "Miss Catamount IV" at the Homecoming Ball. "Hell Week" and initiation were held in March.

During the first semester our sponsor, Miss Verna Riley, became Mrs. James Green. Our co-sponsor, Miss Frances Clark, upon enlisting in the U. S. WAVES received the appointment of Ensign.

To promote scholarship a Gamma Scholarship Pin is awarded at the end of each semester.

Sigma Epsilon Chi Sorority originated on October 10, 1923, and is Potomac State's oldest sorority. It is a local organization, though at one time it was affiliated with a national junior college sorority, Sigma Iota Chi.

This organization, aided by Phi Sigma Nu, sponsored two dances, the "Jingle Bell Hop" and the "Sweetheart" Dance. Miss Eleanor Colabrese was honored by being crowned "Queen of Winter" at the "Jingle Bell Hop."

The "Rush" party was held on October 14. Thirty-one girls became pledges. On October 12, a formal banquet and initiation was held for the pledges at the Corwin Hotel in Keyser.

The promotion of congeniality, sisterly devotion and loyalty, responsibility, and consideration for others are the ideals of the sorority.

The Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded at Potomac State College in 1922 as the Kappa Kappa Fraternity which subsequently became a member of the national group known as Phi Sigma Nu. Later the national organization disbanded and Phi Sigma Nu continued as a local social fraternity.

This year Phi Sigma Nu, with Sigma Epsilon Chi, sponsored the fourth annual "Jingle Bell Hop" honoring Miss Eleanor Colabrese and Richard Moore, respectively, as Queen and King of Winter. Various parties, picnics, and other social activities were held during the year.

The fraternity holds and demands certain requirements, such as scholastic achievement, high moral standards, a better college spirit, and a greater interest in relations between college students as a whole, and to establish a life-long bond of friendship between the members.

Following its annual custom, Theta Sigma Chi sponsored the election of Miss Catamount, who was presented at the Homecoming Ball. On November 21 the fraternity held the "Harvest Swing" and chose Mary Lou Brown as Harvest Queen. A Christmas party for its pledges, initiation from December 7 to December 12, and the maintenance of a basketball team provided activities for the group. To arouse interest in ping-pong, a tournament was promoted by the Thetas.

Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity was founded at Potomac State College in 1922. It has as its ideals the promotion of fellowship, high moral standards, scholarship, and social betterment. Since its organization, the fraternity has endeavored to promote these qualities. Scholastically, Theta Sigma Chi is highly rated, having won upon every occasion the Dean's Scholarship Trophy which is presented to the fraternity which has the highest scholastic average among its members. Thetas are active in social and religious organizations in Keyser. Six of the varsity football squad were Thetas. Some of Potomac State leaders who are Thetas are as follows: President Sophomore Class, Treasurer Pan-Hellenic, President Players, President Young People's League, President Singers, President Dormitory, and Dormitory Representative to Student Council.

The honor society of Potomac State School, Sigma Phi Omega, was established in 1923 in order to recognize scholarship and campus leadership. Election to Sigma Phi Omega is one of the highest honors conferred at Potomac State School.

Of the eighteen members initiated on April 17, 1942, the following returned to the campus in September and have been active in the organization during the school year:

Mary Kathleen Allman	Donald Elrich	David Robinson
Lucile Anthony	Ernest Grove	Joan Rowe
Jean Bowers	Joseph Heare	Christine Shockey
Eleanor Colabrese	Rebecca Mauzy

At the November meeting, Meta Boyd became a member by virtue of her acceptance of the fraternal ritual.

The society again initiated its program of activities by sponsoring the annual Know Your Organizations Convocation, in which representatives of all active campus organizations participated. The companion program giving recognition to campus leaders is included among the year-end activities.

An outstanding service of Sigma Phi Omega to the school and country has been the maintenance of the Defense Booth, where war stamps and bonds are sold to students and faculty.

The climax of Sigma Phi Omega's activities is the annual banquet, held in the spring, where student members join with their faculty associates to honor newly-elected members.

The many uncertainties of securing photographs, engraving, printing, and covers forced the staff to begin work on the annual in October. After getting the approval of the student body, the staff launched a subscription campaign, collected the write-ups, and was ready to go to press by January 1. The yearbook organization, composed of volunteer workers, gave generously of time and effort in order to make possible this permanent record of college life at Potomac State.

The entire student body and faculty made publication possible by their cooperation and helpful suggestions.

Potomac Singers

Under the direction of Katherine Moore Church, the Potomac State Singers have experienced another successful year of music presentations. The group presented a Christmas cantata, "Childe Jesus," with Donald Flick, Ruth Elaine Hott, Miriam Stuart, and Betty Jean Cross as soloists.

Most of the programs for this year will be local ones, before churches, schools and civic organizations. This action is necessitated by the lack of transportation facilities.

The final appearance of the Potomac Singers was at the graduation and baccalaureate services for the graduates of Potomac State School.

This group of singers, conducted under the auspices of the Music Department of the school, offers highly valuable experience in finely trained choral groups, as well as unequaled social and educational advantages to students in any department of the school.

For the past seventeen years the Singers have represented Potomac State School most creditably, and their appearance is always welcomed by those interested in choral singing.

Potomac Players

Potomac State Players is the oldest cultural group on the campus, having been organized by Miss Wilhelmine Deissle in 1919.

The players made their first campus appearance of the year in an assembly program on November 24, in which they presented a number of black-out skits depicting incidents in American history, from the days of the Pilgrims to the present time.

Their first appearance off the campus was the presentation of a program at a luncheon of the Keyser Rotary Club, at the Hotel Corwin, when Dorothy Kalbaugh gave a declamation entitled "June Night" and Junior Davis read "America Was Promises" by Archibald MacLeish. Again Dorothy was on the program at the Keyser Women's Club Christmas program.

Other plays are to be presented in the spring, and the Players Club will have an active part in the annual May Day Program.

The Student Council, composed of twelve members, represents the student body and directs its official activities. The council promotes school spirit, strives for a better understanding between instructor and pupil, and supports all worthy projects.

Freshmen each fall are welcomed by members of the council who serve during Freshman Week as aides. This organization provides caps and identification badges and directs the formation of rules for first year students. By authority granted through a constitution, a court to try individuals failing to abide by Freshman Rules is organized. "Kangaroo Court" is composed of sophomores and administers sentences ranging from wearing signs to scrubbing steps with a toothbrush. In cooperation with the athletic department, the council presents letters, sweaters, and other honorary awards to athletes, managers and cheer leaders. The Homecoming Dance, the May Queen's Ball, printed programs for football games, thuses, and election are included on the Student Council's activities.

Pan-Hellenic

Pan-Hellenic is the governing body of all the Greek social organizations on the campus. This organization serves to promote participation in fraternal activities, and as a central bank for the Greek orders.

Each year Pan-Hellenic sponsors a dance or party for the student body.

The Medical Club

Since its organization in 1933, the Medical Club of Potomac State School has made rapid progress. The purpose of the club is to acquaint interested students with the various branches of the medical fields and to engage in primary experiments to establish important facts.

The club has enjoyed talks and moving pictures given by prominent professional people. Numerous social activities were sponsored throughout the year.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club was organized in October, 1936, Its purpose is to promote interest in home economics and to develop leadership in that field. It offers the opportunity of keeping in touch with the rapid developments in that and allied fields through lectures, papers, and discussions. Speakers representing the various divisions of home economics address the club from time to time. Membership is open to all students of the department.

The course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics in West Virginia University is planned for women students and especially for those who wish to teach home economics in vocational schools and other institutions or who wish to learn the business of home-making.

Membership in the Home Economics Club is based purely on interests and consists of those students participating in the courses of food, clothing, and interior decorating. The aim of the club is to develop leadership and to offer an opportunity to learn more about Home Economics and its allied fields.

The clothing class began an active year by making table cloths and napkins. Before Christmas, cards were designed and boxes were decorated for gifts.

The foods class, consisting of three units, sponsored several bake sales. Each unit served a breakfast, luncheon, and dinner to members of the faculty.

Both classes aided in the war effort by folding Red Cross bandages.

The outstanding achievement of the year was the membership into both state and national Home Economics Associations.

The Folio Book Club

The Folio Book Club was organized in 1939 under the direction of Miss Mary Shipper, librarian. The aims of the club are to stimulate an interest in popular books and to entertain literary minded students.

Since the club was organized, it has had the privilege of hearing several noteworthy persons, the latest being Anna Norman Oates, a West Virginia poetess. Each meeting a guest speaker reviews some recent book.

Social activities for the year included an outdoor picnic for the entertainment of the new members, student mixes, sponsoring theatre programs, and a dinner at the close of the year.

The Pasquino

September 1942 saw the beginning of the Pasquino's twenty-fourth year of publication. The Potomac State Pasquino is a fortnightly publication published under the supervision of the class in journalism, with the assistance of some staff members not in the journalism class.

As a member of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, the school paper endeavors to adhere to the policies of that organization, while giving public expression to the best interests of the school and the student body.

The Pasquino is printed at the office of the Mineral Daily News-Tribune, where the students get first-hand experience at proofreading and general make-up work.

Country Life Club

The Country Life Club was organized at Potomac State School on May 26, 1925. It is one of the oldest campus organizations and is affiliated with the American Association of Country Life Clubs.

This group is interested primarily in increasing the activities of its members in community service, promoting sociability among its members, and studying problems facing youth in rural areas.

The club sponsors a number of social activities during the year and holds regular monthly luncheon meetings. The meetings are devoted to obtaining information through speakers and discussions on present day community problems.

Potomac State Collegiates

The Potomac State Collegiates, again organized under the direction of sophomore LeMoyne Blake, played an important role in promoting school spirit and in making the student campus life more enjoyable. This year's orchestra was increased in size by the addition of two instruments. New stands were purchased which followed the popular V for Victory theme.

The group enjoyed a successful season, playing for the greater number of the school dances and making appearances throughout the Potomac Valley. Miss Jackie Grubbs and several members of the band were featured as vocalists in numerous novelty tunes.

Members of the Collegiates: Stewart Pinnell, Don Flick, Lee Shaeffer, and Frank Wright, saxophones; LeMoyne Blake, Vincent Townsend, and Bill Rogers, trumpets; Bob Hicks, trombone; Betty Schnibbe, piano; Billy Rogers, drums; and Jackie Grubbs, vocalist.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association was organized to promote healthful living, to increase participation in sports, and to develop leadership among its members.

This group has as its motto, "A sport for every girl, and a girl for every sport." Among the activities sponsored to further the aim of the organization is an intramural program. This includes organized team participation in hockey, volleyball, basketball and softball, as well as activities for smaller groups such as hiking, ping-pong, tennis, archery, shuffleboard and badminton.

During the year the Women's Athletic Association also sponsors social dancing classes, a high school play day, a winter carnival, and assists with the production of the annual May Festival.

The officers of the club are:

Sports Club

The Sports Club is an athletic organization composed of the football and basketball squads and other interested persons. The objectives of the club are to educate in the methods of playing, conducting, and officiating the various sports, and to develop a spirit of sportsmanship among players, spectators, and officials.

In the past the Sports Club has had an active part in the directing of intramural contests. Certain members of the club were chosen to officiate at the intramural games.

Because of the elimination of intercollegiate basketball at Potomac State for the duration of the war, particular emphasis was placed this year upon intramural activities. An extensive program was planned for basketball, boxing, and wrestling.

The Sports Club has for its sponsor Coach Dana G. Lough.

Football

The Potomac State Catamounts played only two of the originally scheduled seven games this year; however, the Fairmont State Teachers were met twice on a home-and-home basis.

Coach Dana G. Lough's Cats opened the season on the home field against the Glenville Pioneers. The Staters yielded a touchdown in the final minutes of play to lose 7-0. The following week the Blue and Gold traveled to Wheeling, W. Va., and met the powerful West Liberty State Teachers under the lights. The Hilltoppers scored a touchdown in each quarter to defeat Potomac State 24-0. On the road for the second week in succession, the team met the Fairmont State Teachers at Fairmont. State led the Teachers going into the final quarter 12-7, but a penalty in the last seconds set up a Fairmont tally, and the game ended with the Loughmen on the short end of a 14-12 score. The highlight of the contest was an 88-yard touchdown gallop by Jim Cox, Cat fullback, who took the opening kick-off of the second half on his own 12-yard line and made his way through the whole Maroon team for the six points. The annual Homecoming game was played with Fairmont on Saturday, October 17, at Stayman Field with the Teachers again holding a two-point margin, 8-6. The two victory markers were obtained when a Potomac pass from center rolled behind the goal, producing an automatic safety.

Lettermen who will be lost due to graduation are: James Rice, Thomas Shaffer, Charles Smith, Carroll Rowe, James Cox, Jack O'Neill, Jake Mauzy, Paxton Powers, and Edward Kelly.

Athletic Awards

The Committee on Athletic Awards granted football certificates to: Neal Baisi, Thomas Bosley, Ernest Bazzle, James Cox, Michael Cannon, Francis Dorsey, Edward Kelly, Jacob Mauzy, Jack O'Neill, Paxton Powers, George Powell, Chester Payne, Carroll Rowe, James Rice, Frank Sebold, George Sprecker, Charles Smith, Edgar Smith, Thomas Shaffer, Joseph Saniato, William Stultz, and Phillip Yanoschik; football letters to: Neal Baisi, Ernest Bazzle, Edward Kelley, Jacob Mauzy, Paxton Powers, James Rice, George Sprecker, Edgar Smith, Joseph Saniato, William Stultz, and Phillip Yanoschik; football sweaters to: James Cox, Charles Smith, and Thomas Shaffer; managers letter for football to: Norman Buzard; a special award of a gold football to: Jack O'Neill and Carroll Rowe; and letters for cheer leading to: Mary Lee Wolfe, Mary Jane Whitesell, William Coffman, and Jay Johnson.
